By Overwhelming Majority Tener Receives Nomination

BEAVER WAS LOYAL, WHILE LAWRENCE MAY BE SAFE

Early Reports Saturday Night Said That Acheson Was Out of Running—Deposed Boss Ungracefully Acknowledges Defeat.

While there is every reason to believe that J. K. Tener had his opponent, E. F. Acheson, where he wanted him on Saturday, the terrific landslide accorded the Charleroi candidate came as a great surprise to many who believed the Washington politician to be well nigh invulnerable. Early news denoted that Acheson's main hold, the rural district, had forsaken him and the returns from the small precincts, where the vote was quickly counted, Penrose, meant defeat. I believe that our campaign in the Twenty-fourth district had done much to put the temperance question into politics where it will stay, and I have no regrets for my course. This was only an opening skirmish in the war on the legalized liquor traffic in the state. The people are sure to resent the expenditure of such immense sums as were poured into the Twenty-fourth district for purposes of corrup-

CHARLEROI, IN RECORD BREAKING VOTE, HAD A TENER DAY AT POLLS

J. K. Tener carried his home town by a majority of 777 votes. Acheson's home town went against him by a majority of 760 votes. These words tell the whole story of the determined effort that has been worked up to gain a victory for Tener and independence in politics, and speaks as nothing else can of the degree of esteem in which the respective candidates are held among those who know them best. For two solid hours after the polls were opened at two o'clock Saturday afternoon a line of voters took their positions to wait for their turn to cast a ballot. The work went slow at first, but proceeded more rapidly after the different boards got a better understanding of the new process, and nothing but praise is heard of the new primary system.

Following is the vote in full as it was cast in Charleroi.

WASHINGTON COUNTY GAVE TENER 4,000 MAJORITY

Entire Acheson Slate Went Down to Defeat—All Sections Take Part in Defeat of Ring, Even Acheson's Own Town and Precinct.

Primary election returns were still put in charge of the Tener campaign unknown from many districts when the county were all well known, Commissioners' Clerk H. L. Camp had clean records themselves, and had nothing to shrink from in making the fight for their candidate. The campaign has ended with but few sore spots among the various aspirants for 114 on congress, 73 on assembly, 52 on treasurer, 73 on commissioner, and 75 on corner. From the figures in these precincts it is evident that the whole Acheson test for common sense was practically gave an inkling of what was to follow in the news of the greatest political upheaval the district has ever known. It is concluded that Tener's victory in the district will be easily 5200. The anti-labor candidates for the legislature, Craven, Sprowls and McCabe were defeated by Bentley, Carothers and Holland by about 1800 majority. The close contest for county treasurer leaves still some doubt, as Parshall, Lane and Drum are running very close together, but it is generally believed that Lane will capture the nomination. Congressman Acheson does not take his defeat in a very graceful manner, as shown by the following statement, which he gave out last night:

JOHN K. TENER.

Nominated For Congress In The Twenty-Fourth District.

Men may fail, but a good cause moves ever onward. At the last session of the legislature it became evident that there was no hope for temperance legislation or local option so long as the present corrupt Republican state machine, which is closely allied with the liquor traffic, is in power. With the deliberate intention of helping to force local option to the front as the paramount issue before the people of Pennsylvania I took my stand last summer, though warned that opposition to the liquor interests and their guardian, Senator ton. I have enlisted for the war in which will not end until the saloon is banished.

WILLIAM E. LANE

Chosen as the Republican Candidate for County Treasurer.

lost sight of. The Democratic vote was reported from less than a dozen precincts in the county, and from those it was not complete.

The latest information from the other two counties in the district at midnight last night was that J. K. Tener would carry them both. The city of New Castle gave the Charleroi man a majority of 325, but it is believed the country districts will cut his majority down to 25 in Lawrence county. With 16 precincts not reported Tener had 1213 of a majority in Beaver county. It is believed his majority in Beaver county will reach 15,00. Taking his majority of 4,176 in the 11 precincts heard from in this county, his 250 in Lawrence and 1,213 in Beaver and he has a majority of 5,639.

The splendid victory of John K. Tener for congress can be attributed to the splendid personality of that gentleman coupled with the dissatisfaction among the voters which the course Congressman Acheson has pursued for some time had engendered. The Tener forces were no better organized than those of the candidates for assembly, but the various men

The Victory.
The nomination of J. K. Tener for congress is a decided triumph for the liberty-loving people of the Twenty-fourth district. Political independence is established, ring rule, favoritism, and boss-ridden candidacies are at an end. A new era of independence dawns upon a party that has long submitted to having its best principles trampled in the dust.

The victory is accentuated by the fact that it is a clean one. A tremendous lot of faith and a firm adherence to honorable means have been characteristic of the Tener campaign in the face of opposition that has a National disrepute for using every instrument, fair and foul, to attain its end. This is indeed an occasion for congratulation among all fair-minded people that the outlook for the district is one where they may not only feel free from the oppressor, as he gives out, but that the incoming power is one that has not been gained for the sake of dominion. There is no machine in Washington, county to day and none in the process of building.

The defeat of E. F. Acheson is of such overwhelming proportions and of such general import that its full meaning cannot be grasped at this time. It is a salutary lesson to the crazed of the professional politicians and its effect will be to encourage many counties and many districts to what its sword anew for the boss who demands its vote on pain of banishing or defeated any of their prospective candidates for office.

As for the wail which Mr. Acheson has sent up bemoaning the fall of his cherished plans, they are not worth the space the words occupy. The church and temperance people have too clearly showed their level-headedness in the election of a Congressional candidate to permit the defeated champion to hope that he will never have a place in their estimation of value to him politically. There is full evidence that his support of a measure or a candidate spells defeat for that side. He is, to speak in the expressive words of the present generation, down and out.

The temperance cause has no reason to feel that the situation is against it. Rather has it reason to feel hopeful that the people can no longer be controlled by machinery and trick-ery, but by the dictation of their own conscience, by the character and not the strength to rule, of the candidate.
Not until this condition has been brought about can a nation be brought to work out a great reform, and surely in selecting for an office of such great importance as Congress a man of the ability and honor of J. K. Tener they have the most reason to hope and the brightest view of their future, because the majority has shown itself free to support the man it wants regardless of hateful influences used in the cause of personal ambition.

DOOR IS NO LONGER CLOSED
The Pittsburgh Gazette Times comments as follows on the result of the Congressional contest:
John K. Tener is to be congratulated on his victory in the contest for the Republican nomination for congress in the Twenty-fourth district.
Mr. Tener is a young man and comparatively new in politics, and won on his reputation as a strong, clean man and business man. It is clear that the voters of the district judged him by what was known of him at the time he announced himself a candidate and by his later course and not by the unjustifiable attacks made upon him by and in behalf of his opponent during the contest. Mr. Tener refused to descend to that level and maintained a straightforward manly course throughout, using temperate language only to make his attitude toward public questions clear to the voters and refrained from any attempt to aid his own candidacy by misrepresentation of his competitor.
He is to be congratulated for this even more, perhaps, than for his victory. His majority is unexpectedly large—so large that imputations that it was won by any means but the honest, earnest support of the Republicans of the district is a reflection upon them and not upon him, and therefore absurd on its face. The result is proof that the door of opportunity in the Republican party is not closed to young men of talent and character, but is wide open to them, and that no man or action can establish a monopoly of honors within the gift of the people.

There is no reason for the outburst of Mr. Acheson on the heels of the ascertainment of the result except the natural disappointment of one who has suffered defeat. Inasmuch as the size of Mr. Tener's majority places it beyond dispute that the result is the work of the people of the district and not due to any outside influence it would have been much wiser and much better politics to have accepted the outcome gracefully.

More Humanity.
On Tener's nomination for Congress, William C. Black, of the Union Labor Journal, Washington, Pa., who was in CharleROI today, says, from an Organized Labor standpoint:
"The forces for more humanity in this congressional district have won.
The People have spoken." Mr. Black also expressed great regret that the labor candidate for county treasurer, J. H. Bowers, had not been elected.

THE COUNTRY BANKER.
His influence on National Finance During Crop Harvesting.
Enter the small town for almost any purpose—to sell books, to seek a location, to look up land titles, to write life insurance, to get a news story, to collect a debt—and early in your visit you will go to the ornate, imposing building on the corner of the two busiest streets. You will pass a lattice crowned counter and be admitted to a room large enough only to hold a desk and two chairs. There you will come face to face with the town's financier, the Pierpont Morgan of the community, the banker. Not an enterprise, not a considerable business undertaking, is started without consultation with him.
The man who sells a farm and wishes to put his money where it will earn interest goes to the banker. The widow with a few thousand dollars of life insurance—more money than she ever saw together in all her life before—asks the banker how to invest it. It would be better if more of this class would take the banker's advice when it is given. Then there is the merchant who owes for a large portion of his goods. He comes nervously asking if the bank will "see him through" the dull season. The banker gives assent to one, explains to another, refuses a third and comes at last to read unconsciously the business record of every man he meets on the street.

The country banker exerts his greatest influence on national finance during the crop harvesting season. Whether it be in the gathering of fruit in California, of cotton in the south or of wheat in the plains region, the banker comes in direct touch with the worker.
Take the wheat harvest as covering the widest area and creating the most intense demand during its existence.
In a single state 20,000 harvesters are needed besides those already at work on the farms. Through the labor bureaus and railway departments whole train loads of workers are secured from states at a distance. These helpers are mostly itinerants, and they have no local standing. A grain raiser went among his laborers one Saturday night and, asking their names, proceeded to make out checks for the week's work.
"What shall we do with them?" asked one.
"Cash them at the bank, of course."
"Who will identify us?"
The employer saw the point, tore up the checks and secured currency with which to pay the men. That made a demand on the bank. Scores of other farmers were doing the same thing.
Hundreds of other communities did it.
The result is that the country bankers draw millions of dollars from the "reserve centers" every harvest and to some degree change national financial currents thereby.—C. M. Harger in Atlantic Monthly.

Helping the Postoffice.
"It is surprising," said a postoffice employee, "how many people there are who think they know better than the postal authorities the most direct way for a letter to reach its destination. It is quite common for us to handle mail that has instructions in regard to speedy delivery written in one corner of the envelope. Not only are we directed to send domestic mail by a certain railroad or steamboat line, but the route by which the writers wish foreign bound letters to travel is also designated. These instructions frequently denote a lamentable ignorance of transportation facilities on the part of the writers. If they were obeyed the delivery of the letters would be delayed rather than expedited. Fortunately such directions are disregarded by the postal authorities unless they happen to coincide with the government's arrangements for handling mail, so nobody is inconvenienced except the clerks who read the unnecessary advice."—New York Sun.

Mother
At a mothers' meeting a young woman recounted with some pride a number of proverbs about mothers.
"It's easier for a poor mother to keep seven children than for seven children to keep a mother." That said and striking proverb," she said, "is from the Swiss."
"A mother's love is new every day."
"He who will not mind his mother will some day have to mind the jailer."
"Better lose a rich father than a poor mother." "A father's love is only knee-deep, but a mother's reaches to the heart." Those proverbs are all German.
"The Hindus say poetically, 'Mother mine, ever mine, whether I be rich or poor.'"

Novelty in Cement Wall.
There is a wall of cement in Los Angeles which shores up one side of a building lot that has an artistic value never intended by the builder. He had moved his bags of cement on to the ground to be ready for work and was then called away on some other job for a day or two. In the meantime one of the very infrequent rains came on, and each sack turned into stone under the action of the water, and the fabric of the sacks themselves was absorbed into the cement so that it was impossible to remove it. Consequently each sack was wrought into the wall as if it had been a boulder on the line of an old stone wall. They were then chinked and bound together with worked cement, and after a time the weather disposed of the gunny sacking, but left the blocks marked with the impress of the weave. The result is a highly ornamental cement wall, resembling at a little distance a wall of some woven material.

returns must be awaited to determine whether John K. Tener or Ernest F.
Acheson carried Lawrence county, while the result of the contest for county commissioners is also in doubt.
Last evening 54 of the 66 precincts gave Tener 2,738 and Acheson 2,656.
The 11 missing precincts may give Acheson a slight gain. Thomas W.
Phillips and Joseph J. Zimmerman are running ahead here on incomplete returns for national Republican delegates. In the contest for the Republican delegate nomination for state senate 49 precincts gave George T.
Weingartner, 2,836, S. P. Emry, 1,855, Samuel P. White 402 and James E. Mooney 261. Weingartner will have an estimated majority here over White of 2,800. White's supporters only claim 1,800 majority for him over Weingartner in Beaver, his home county.

Beaver Pa., April 13.—The unofficial returns of 66 districts out of 80 in Beaver county show J. K. Tener will have a majority of 1,211 over E. F. Acheson in the congressional fight, and it is expected the 14 remaining districts will increase Tener's majority to about 1,500. Of the districts heard from the Republican vote is as follows: Tener, 4,310; Acheson, 3,100.

RETURNS WERE FURNISHED QUICKLY
The election returns were adequately furnished to CharleROI on Saturday evening by telephone and telegraph and were from the first surprisingly accurate. The news from Lawrence and Beaver counties was received by way of telegraph from New Castle. The same service which was being used for transmitting telephone messages at the same time being used in securing and sending telegraph messages. By this special arrangement the returns from the most distant points were very much facilitated. The returns were received at the manager's office of the telephone company by telegraph and then relayed by telephones to the Tener headquarters and thence to all the precincts in the county. In this way all were promptly advised regarding the results at the most distant points.

In addition to the regular Bell force engaged in handling the returns were J. R. Kiffitt, of Uniontown, who operated the telegraph instrument, M. T. Crowley, of the firm of Crowell and Crowley.

From His Baseball Friends.
(Hon.) J. K. Tener this morning received from H. C. Tulliam and Dan Johnson, the former President of the American League, a handsome present in the shape of an annual pass neatly framed in a leather pocket case, good for admission to any grounds in the United States. It is a memento which Mr. Tener greatly values.

GIRLS OF BURLESQUE TROUPE HAVE FIGHT

Two female members of the French Maid's Burlesque company, had a fight behind the scenes at the Coyle Theatre Saturday night, and if they had not been pulled apart it is likely it would have been to a finish. As it was, Adeline Lee, a little blond, received a stab in the finger from a bat pin, causing her to faint, and her opponent, Mrs. Fred Humes, known on the stage as Eva Lewis, had her face battered up considerably.

The two have not been on good terms for sometime and a few words passed Saturday night set them at each other, hammer and tongs. As a result of the frequent disagreements the Clausen sisters left the show yesterday morning and others threatened to go.

DUBEC'S ANIMAL CIRCUS AT STAR THIS WEEK

For the first three days of this week the Star will have for the main attraction Dubecs animal circus. In this feature act will be dogs, cats, rats and monkeys. Other headliners are Al Monie, black face singing and dancing comedian, and The Mitchels, Harry and Katherine in an up-to-date

TURNERS HOLD THEIR ANNUAL CONVENTION

The annual convention of the Pittsburgh Turner district was held in Charleroi Turner Hall yesterday, there being a big number of clubmen here from outside districts. There were thirty-two Turner societies represented and about two hundred and fifty delegates were present, from as far west as Wheeling and east to Johnstown. The day was spent in the usual way of such a convention. There were good speakers present who delivered interesting addresses.

WORK IN THE SCHOENBERGER MINE

The new entry being driven parallel to the main at the Schoenberger mine crossed a right angle entry Saturday, the opening being made in the presence of a number of officials of the Pittsburgh and Westmoreland Coal company. As is well known the right airway entry of the mine has been on fire since the 23rd of last December. The officials made every effort to confine the fire, but were baffled on account of an entry which led off at right angles to the main entry, and which furnished considerable air to the smoldering fire.

To overcome this the officials directed that an additional entry, to parallel the main, be driven and men have been at work on this for some time. Yesterday they were ready to cut through into the right angle entry, and every preparation was made for the safety of the men while engaged in this trying task. In order to permit the men to breathe while in this atmosphere, which was found to be thick with smoke, the Dräger breathing apparatus was used, this contrivance consisting of a tank which is carried on the back, feeding air to a cap placed over the head.

Equipped with this new invention the men were enabled to work in the smoke without any bad effects, and last night succeeded in building cement and brick stoppings to cut off the air from the main and parallel entries, thus permitting the men to go ahead with the work of driving the additional entry to a point beyond the fire.

While engaged in the work the carpenter was overcome by the smoke, owing to the fact that the apparatus he was using having been improperly placed. Shortly after going into the foul atmosphere he gave a few gasps and fell over. He was quickly removed to purer air and rapidly recovered his normal state and in a few minutes was ready for further service.

At the point where the new entry crosses the right angle entry, the workmen found things very warm, indicating that the fire is still burning, and with a little air would do a great deal of damage. Last winter the officials succeeded in confining the fire to a great extent, and now hope, by the aid of the new entry to build other brattices much closer to the burning portion, and thus finally overcome it.

The new entry now being driven will cut over into the main entry after getting to a point beyond the fire, and will be used temporarily as a haulage way until such time as the regular entry can be used. As for return air ways, there are several other openings that can be used for that purpose, as well as the new entry driven back of Donora, which will permit the mine to be operated as soon as the new parallel entry is completed.

General Manager Knopf was present when the opening was made, being accompanied by Manager Donald Darroch, of this district; Richard Maize, of Hazel Kirk No. 1, William Bird, superintendent of Penn Manor shaft No. 5, and Benjamin McIntyre, superintendent of Acme. The officials were on duty all night.

The directors of the Citizen's Library association will hold their annual meeting April 17, '08, in the hall at 7:30 a. m., all members are requested to be present. By order of board, W. C. Pangburn, Sec'y. 201111

Making More Than a Living

Nearly every man who works steadily makes more than a living. During these slow times the men who have saved something appreciate what it is to have something laid away for a rainy day. A few cents a day soon counts up, and when savings are placed in a bank at a tidy interest the sum soon grows to proportions that make it a safeguard against want when work is not plentiful. Figure up how much more than a living you are making now, and place the difference in this bank. Four per cent interest paid in savings department.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. Harry Myers left yesterday for Oil City to join her husband.

Mrs. C. C. Holyfield was an over Sunday visitor with friends in Donora.

Misses Victoriene Laborie and Mary Fau were visitors in Monongahela yesterday.

Robert Reed, of Dravosburg spent Sunday with his aunt, Mrs. R. J. Lyale, of McKean Avenue.

A supper and social will be given tonight in the Dunlevy U. B. church to which all are cordially invited.

Mrs. and Mr. T. L. Daly and Miss Athala Daly have returned from Orlando, Florida, where they spent several weeks.

The number winning the bride which has been on display in the window of J. W. McKean's jewelry store for several weeks is No. 72 1-2 and the person holding that number is requested to call and receive the bride.

Al Monie.

A black face comedian who is better than most black face men. At the Star. 2112.

A large company of friends from Dunlevy, Vesta, Stockdale, Monongahela City and as far distant as Bellaire, O., filled the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Taylor at Dunlevy, Saturday evening, to witness the marriage of their only daughter, Miss Mary Ann Taylor, to John Holland Smith. The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock, the bride and groom being accompanied by Miss Ada Abbott of Vesta as bridesmaid and the bride's brother, William, as best man. The bride is petite and pretty and was particularly attractive on this occasion in her exquisite gown of white, relieved only by a bouquet of orange blossoms. The groom, who is a very popular employee of the Pittsburg Coal company and an expert football player, was manly and handsome as usual. Rev. Newton S. Bailey, pastor of the United Brethren church of Dunlevy, performed the ceremony which was rendered more impressive and beautiful by the use of the ring.

Of course the usual wedding feast followed and all present enjoyed the festivity until the wee small hours of the next day had almost arrived. Those who know the young couple agree that it is a most happy union of hearts and hands and wish them joy through life.

Al Monie

The Order of St. Patrick

The "most illustrious Order of St. Patrick" dates only from 1783, says a London writer, when it was founded by George III. and is not to be compared in age with "the most ancient and most noble Order of the Thistle," which, dating from a remote antiquity, was revived by James II. in 1687. The curious thing about the bands, or ribbons, of these two orders is that St. Patrick's is blue of the hue that may be seen in the "hackles," or plumes, in the feathers of the Irish guards, though it suggests the blue bells of Scotland, while the ash of the thistle is a dark green, suggestive of Erin's verdant Isle. On state ceremonies these two orders are frequently founded.

LEGS CUT OFF BY TRAIN, MAN DIES AT THE HOSPITAL

Daniel Lewis, of California, Suffers Death For Carelessness on Track.

Daniel Lewis, a colored man of California had his legs cut off and other painful injuries inflicted by the local night shifter, at Sixth street at 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening. The injured man was taken to the Memorial Hospital, Monongahela, where he died at one o'clock Sunday morning.

Lewis had come from his home to this place in the evening to learn the election results. He had occasion to cross the railroad tracks at Sixth street, soon after arriving here. There were cars standing on one track, they being attached to an engine. But this fact was not noticed by Lewis, who instead of going over the bridge started to crawl under one of the cars. He had just got in under the car when the engine started, and before the man could make his escape the wheels had passed over his limbs, completely severing them. The shifter engine coupled to a ca-house and took Lewis to the hospital. Mr. Lewis was 60 years of age, and is survived by his wife and five children. He was employed in the California Brick works, being known as a faithful worker.

Letter to T. L. Daly.

Dear Sir: There are thousands of people saying: "That's what I call a good job of paint, it has worn three years. I'm going to repaint it before it needs it: three years is enough."

Those people are a long way behind the times. There are two reasons for painting: those people know only one, they are thinking only of water: of keeping out water. Three years may be too long for the looks of paint; it isn't half long enough for the wear. If all you want of paint is to keep-out water, Devco is good for a dozen years in average places. And that isn't all.

The cost of the job is the first thing to think-of, and if you think of it right, you needn't bother with wear.

The paint that takes least gallons makes the least bill for both paint and painting: people forget the labor bill, it's the biggest bill in the job. A gallon saved is about $5. Five gallons saved is $25. The paint that saves gallons—that's the paint to wear.

Geo W Brown, Union, S. C. painted B F Arthur's house there twelve years ago with 30 gallons; repainted five years ago lead-and-oil with 25 gallons; last year Devco with 14 gallons. There's $50 saved on paint and labor; don't know what he paid for that 30-gallon stuff; no matter. Go by the gallon.

Yours truly

In the near future all cars on the Pittsburg Railways company lines will be equipped with driving rods similar to those now in use on "rail-road locomotives. Already the idea has been tried out on various lines, one car equipped being in use on the local division, and it is said they have given satisfaction. The rods connect driving force directly with the wheels, and when the power is thrown on all wheels start at once. It also renders stops more easy, as no one wheel can slide, as they do under the old system.

CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON CO., PA., MONDAY, APRIL 13, 1936

One Cent

By Overwhelming Majority Tener Receives Nomination

BEAVER WAS LOYAL, WHILE LAWRENCE MAY BE SAFE

Early Reports Saturday Night Said That Acheson Was Out of Running—Deposed Boss Ungracefully Acknowledges Defeat.

While there is every reason to believe that J. K. Tener had his opponent, E. F. Acheson where he wanted him, the Washington politician to be accorded the Charleroi candidate came as a great surprise to many who believed the Washington politician to be on well high invulnerable. Early news reports that Acheson's main hold, the rural district, had forsaken him and the returns from the small precincts, where the vote was quickly counted, fourth district for support of Acheson.

Purpose, meant defeat. I believe that our campaign in the Twenty-fourth district had done much to put the where it will stay, and I have no regrets for my course. This was only an opening skirmish in the war on the legalized liquor traffic in the state. The people are sure to resent the expenditure of such immense sums as were poured into the Twenty-fourth district for support of Acheson.

J. K. Tener carried his home town by a majority of 777 votes. Acheson's home town went against him by a majority of 760 votes. These words tell the whole story of the determined effort that has been worked up to gain a victory for Tener and independence in politics, and as nothing else can of the degree of esteem in which the respective candidates are held among those who know them best. For two solid hours after the polls were opened at two o'clock Saturday afternoon a line of voters took their positions to wait for their turn to cast a ballot. The work went slow at first, but proceeded more rapidly after the different boards got a better understanding of the new process, and nothing but noise is heard of the new primary system.

Following is the vote in full as it was cast in Charleroi.

WASHINGTON COUNTY GAVE TENER 4,000 MAJORITY

Entire Acheson Slate Went Down to Defeat—All Sections Take Part in Defeat of Ring, Even Acheson's Own Town and Precinct.

Primary election returns were still in charge of the Tener campaign in the county were all well known, had clean records themselves and had nothing to shrink from in making the fight for their candidate. The campaign has ended with but few sore spots among the various aspirants for nomination. The contest for the Re-tion treasurer, 75 on assembly, 80 on coroner, 75 on commissioner, and publican nominations so generally took the attention of the people of the county that the Democratic con- test for nomination was practically gave an inkling of what was to follow in the news of the greatest political upheaval the district has ever known. It is concluded that Tener's victory in the district will be easily 3200. The anti-labor candidates for the legislature, Craven, Sprowls and McCabe were defeated by Bentley, Carothers and Holland by about 1000 majority. The close contest for county treasurer leaves still some doubt, as Parshall, Lane and Drum are running very close together, but it is generally believed that Lane will capture the nomination. Congressman Acheson does not take his defeat in a very graceful manner, as shown by the following statement, which he gave out last night:

Men may fail, but a good cause moves ever onward. At the last session of the legislature it became evident that there was no hope for temperance legislation or local option so long as the present corrupt Republican state machine, which is closely allied with the liquor traffic, is in power. With the deliberate intention of helping to force local option to the front as the paramount issue before the people of Pennsylvania I took my stand last summer, though warned that opposition to the liquor interests and their guardian, Senator ticket went down to defeat, including his candidates for state delegates. On treasurer it is believed the contest will narrow down between Parshall and Lane, although the friends of Drum think that the returns yet to come in for that office will bring him well up to the front.

The vote against the Acheson slate was not confined to any one section, but was distributed throughout the county, thus indicating the determination of the Republican voters to end once and for all the making and nominating of slates.

The splendid victory of John K. Tener for congress can be attributed to the splendid personality of that gentleman coupled with the dissatisfaction among the voters which the course Congressman Acheson has pursued for some time had engendered.

The Tener forces were no better organized than those of the candidates for assembly, but the various men lost sight of. The Democratic vote was reported from less than a dozen precincts in the county, and from those it was not complete.

The latest information from the other two counties in the district at midnight last night was that J. K. Tener would carry them both. The city of New Castle gave the Charleroi man a majority of 325, but it is believed the country districts will cut his majority down to 220 in Lawrence county. With 16 precincts not reported Tener had 1213 of a majority in Beaver county. It is believed his majority in Beaver county will reach 1500. Taking his majority of 4,176 in the 11 precincts heard from in this county, his 250 in Lawrence and 1,213 in Beaver and he has a majority of 5,639.

The Victory.

The nomination of J. K. Tener for congress is a decided triumph for the liberty-loving people of the Twenty-fourth district. Political independence is established, ring rule, favoritism, and boss-ridden candidacies are at an end. A new era of independence dawns upon a party that has long submitted to having its best principles trampled in the dust.

The victory is accentuated by the fact that it is a clean one. A tremendous lot of faith and a firm adherence to honorable means have been characteristic of the Tener campaign in the face of opposition that has a National disrepute for using every instrument, fair and foul, to attain its end. This is indeed an occasion for congratulation among all fair-minded people that the outlook for the district is one where they may not only feel free from the oppressor, as he goes out, but that the incoming power is one that has not been gained for the sake of dominion. There is no machine in Washington county today and none in the process of building.

The defeat of E. F. Acheson is of such overwhelming proportions and of such general import that its full meaning cannot be grasped at this time. It is a salutary lesson to the czardom of the professional politicians and its effect will be to encourage many counties and many districts to demand its vote on pain of banishing or defeated any of their prospective candidates for office.

As for the wall which Mr. Acheson has rent up hemming, the fall of his cherished plans, they are not worth the space the words occupy. The church and temperance people have too clearly showed their level-headedness in the election of a Congressional candidate to permit the defeated champion to hope that he will never have a place in their estimation of value to him politically. There is full evidence that his support of a measure or a candidate spells defeat for that side. He is, to speak in the expressive words of the present generation, down and out.

The temperance cause has no reason to feel that the situation is against it. Rather has it reason to feel hopeful that the people can no longer be controlled by machinery and trickery, but by the dictation of their own conscience, by the character and not the strength to rule, of the candidate. Not until this condition has been brought about can a nation be brought to work out a great reform, and surely in selecting for an office of such great importance as Congress a man of they have the most reason to hope and the brightest view of their future, because the majority has shown itself free to support the man it wants regardless of hateful influences used in the cause of, personal ambition.

DOOR IS NO LONGER CLOSED

The Pittsburg Gazette Times comments as follows on the result of the Congressional contest:

John K. Tener is to be congratulated on his victory in the contest for the Republican nomination for congress in the Twenty-fourth district. Mr. Tener is a young man and comparatively new in politics, and won on his reputation as a strong, clean man and business man. It is clear that the voters of the district judged him by what was known of him at the time he announced himself a candidate and by his later course and not by the unjustifiable attacks made upon him by and in behalf of his opponent during the contest. Mr. Tener refused to descend to that level and maintained a straightforward, manly course throughout, using temperate language only to make his attitude toward public questions clear to the voters and refrained from any attempt to aid his own candidacy by misrepresentation of his competitor. He is to be congratulated for this even more, perhaps, than for his victory. His majority is unexpectedly large—so large that imputations that it was won by any means but the honest, earnest support of the Republicans of the district is a reflection upon them and not upon him, and therefore absurd on its face. The result is proof that the door of opportunity in the Republican party is not closed to young men of talent and character, but is wide open to them, and that no man or action can establish a monopoly of honors within the gift of the people.

There is no reason for the outburst of Mr. Acheson on the heels of the ascertainment of the result except the natural disappointment of one who has suffered defeat. Inasmuch as the size of Mr. Tener's majority places it beyond dispute that the result is the work of the people of the district and not due to any outside influence it would have been much wiser and much better politics to have accepted the outcome gracefully.

More Humanity.

On Tener's nomination for Congress, William C. Black, of the Union Labor Journal, Washington, Pa., who was in CharleROI today, says, from an Organized Labor standpoint: "The forces for more humanity in this congressional district have won. The People have spoken." Mr. Black also expressed great regret that the labor candidate for county treasurer, J. H. Bowers, had not been elected.

THE COUNTRY BANKER.

His Influence on National Finance During Crop Harvesting.

Enter the small town for almost any purpose—to sell books, to seek a location, to look up land titles, to write life insurance, to get a news-story, to collect a debt—and early in your visit you will go to the ornate, imposing building on the corner of the two busiest streets. You will pass a lattice-crowned counter and be admitted to a room large enough only to hold a desk and two chairs. There you will come face to face with the town's financier, the Pierpont Morgan of the community, the banker. Not an enterprise, not a considerable business undertaking, is started without consultation with him. The man who sells a farm and wishes to put his money where it will earn interest goes to the banker. The widow with a few thousand dollars of life insurance—more money than she ever saw together in all her life before—asks the banker how to invest it. It would be better if more of this class would take the banker's advice when it is given. Then there is the merchant who owes for a large portion of his goods. He comes nervously asking if the bank will "see him through" the dull season. The banker gives assent to one, explains to another, refuses a third.

ly the business record of every man he meets on the street.

The country banker exerts his greatest influence on national finance during the crop harvesting season. Whether it be in the gathering of fruit in California, of cotton in the south or of wheat in the plains region, the banker comes in direct touch with the worker.

Take the wheat harvest as covering the widest area and creating the most intense demand during its existence. In a single state 20,000 harvesters are needed besides those already at work on the farms. Through the labor bureaus and railway departments whole train loads of workers are secured from states at a distance. These helpers are mostly illiterates, and they have no local standing. A grain raiser went among his laborers one Saturday night and, asking their names, proceeded to make out checks for the week's work. "What shall we do with them?" asked one. "Cash them at the bank, of course." "Who will identify us?"

The employer saw the point, tore up the checks and secured currency with which to pay the men. That made a demand on the bank. Scores of other farmers were doing the same thing. Hundreds of other communities did it. The result is that the country bankers draw millions of dollars from the "reserve centers" every harvest and to some degree change national financial currents. (Lynch)—C. M. Harger in Atlantic Monthly.

Helping the Postoffice.

"It is surprising," said a postoffice employee, "how many people there are who think they know better than the postal authorities the most direct way for a letter to reach its destination. It is quite common for us to handle mail that has instructions in regard to speedy delivery written in one corner of the envelope. Not only are we directed to send domestic mail by a certain railroad or steamboat line, but the route by which the writers wish for cash and letters to travel is also designated. These instructions frequently denote a lamentable ignorance of transportation facilities on the part of the writers. If they were obeyed the delivery of the letters would be delayed rather than expedited. Fortunately such directions are disregarded by the postal authorities unless they happen to coincide with the government's arrangements for handling mail, so nobody is inconvenienced except the clerks who read the unnecessary advice."—New York Sun.

Mother.

At a mother's meeting a young woman recounted with some pride a number of proverbs about mothers. "It's easier for a poor mother to keep seven children than for seven children to keep a mother." That said and striking proverb," she said, "is from the Swiss.

"A mother's love is new every day." "He who will not mind his mother will some day have to mind the jailer." "Better lose a rich father than a poor mother." "A father's love is only knee deep, but a mother's reaches to the heart." Those proverbs are all German. "The Hindoos say poetically, 'Mother mine, ever mine, whether I be rich or poor.'"

"The Venetians say: 'Mother! He who has one calls her. He who has none misses her.'"

"The Bohemians say: 'A mother's hand is soft even when it strikes.'"

"The Lithuanians say: 'Mother means martyr.'"

Novelty In Cement Wall.

There is a wall of cement in Los Angeles which shores up one side of a building lot that has an artistic value never intended by the builder. He had moved his bags of cement on to the ground to be ready for work and was then called away on some other job for a day or two. In the meantime one of the very infrequent rains came on, and each sack turned into stone under the action of the water, and the fabric of the sacks themselves was absorbed into the cement so that it was impossible to remove it. Consequently each sack was wrought into the wall as if it had been a boulder on the line of an old stone wall. They were then chinked and bound together with worked cement, and after a time the weather disposed of the gunny sacking, but left the blocks marked with the impress of the weave. The result is a highly ornamental cement wall, resembling at a little distance a wall of some woven material.

returns must be awaited to determine whether John K. Tener or Ernest F. Acheson carried Lawrence county, while the result of the contest for county commissioners is also in doubt. Last evening 54 of the 65 precincts gave Tener 2,788 and Acheson 2,656. The 11 missing precincts may give Acheson a slight gain. Thomas W. Phillips and Joseph J. Zimmerman are running ahead here on incomplete returns for national Republican delegates. In the contest for the Republican delegate nomination for state senate 49 precincts gave George T. Weingartner, 2,830, S. F. Eury, 1,355, Samuel P. White 402 and James E. Mooney 261. Weingartner will have an estimated majority here over White of 2,800. White's supporters over Weingartner in Beaver, his home county. Beaver Pa., April 13.—The unofficial returns of 66 districts out of 80 in Beaver county show J. K. Tener will have a majority of 1,211 over E. F. Acheson in the congressional fight, and it is expected the 14 remaining districts will increase Tener's majority to about 1,500. Of the districts heard from the Republican vote is as follows: Tener, 4,310; Acheson, 3,100.

RETURNS WERE FURNISHED QUICKLY

The election returns were adequately furnished to CharleROI on Saturday evening by telephone and telegraph and were from the first surprisingly accurate. The news from Lawrence and Beaver counties was received by way of telegraph from New Castle. The same service which was being used for transmitting telephone messages at the same time being used in securing and sending telegraph messages. By this special arrangement the returns from the most distant points were very much facilitated. The returns were received at the manager's office of the telephone company by telegraph and then relayed by telephones to the Tener headquarters and thence to all the precincts in the county. In this way all were promptly advised regarding the results at the most distant points.

In addition to the regular Bell force engaged in handling the returns were J. R. Killet, of Lawrence, who operated the telegraph instrument, M. T. Crowley, of the law, of CharleROI and Crowley.

From His Baseball Friends.

(Hon.) J. K. Tener this morning received from E. C. Tulliam and Dan Johnson, the former President of the American League, a handsome present in the shape of an annual pass neatly framed in a leather pocket case, good for admission to any grounds in the United States. It is a memento which Mr. Tener greatly values.

GIRLS OF BURLESQUE TROUPE HAVE FIGHT

Two female members of the French Maid's Burlesque company, had a fight behind the scenes at the Coyle Theatre Saturday night, and if they had not been pulled apart it is likely it would have been to a finish. As it was, Adeline Lee, a little blond, received a stab in the finger from a hat pin, causing her to faint, and her opponent, Mrs. Fred Humes, known on the stage as Eva Lewis, had her face battered up considerably.

The two have not been on good terms for sometime and a few words passed Saturday night set them at each other, hammer and tongs. As a result of the frequent disagreements the Clausen sisters left the show yesterday morning and others threatened to go.

The Emerson Oxford

You ought to buy the Emerson Oxford now because Fashion dictates the wear of the low-cut shoe in Spring and Summer, and in many stylish lasts of the Emerson Oxford we have just that newest style suited to your particular foot needs.

You ought to wear the Emerson Oxford because it combines comfort and style. The stiff box toe is built sufficiently high to give room for the foot and thus prevent that uncomfortable pressure and rubbing wear to the hosiery found in the ordinary low cut shoe. The perfect cut of the upper leather of the Emerson permits of no flaring edge. That is why it is called "The Shoe that Fits the Ankle."

Ask us to prove it before you buy. We only dare offer to because we know we can.

TURNERS HOLD THEIR ANNUAL CONVENTION

The annual convention of the Pittsburgh Turner district was held in Charleroi Turner Hall yesterday, there being a big number of clubmen here from outside districts. There were thirty-two Turner societies represented and about two hundred and fifty delegates were present, from as far west as Wheeling and east to Johnstown. The day was spent in the usual way of such a convention. There were good speakers present who delivered interesting addresses.

The new entry being driven parallel to the main at the Schoenberger mine crossed a right angle entry Saturday, the opening being made in the presence of a number of officials of the Pittsburgh and Westmoreland Coal company. As is well known the return airway entry of the mine has been on fire since the 28th of last December. The officials made every effort to confine the fire, but were baffled on account of an entry which led off at right angles to the main entry, and which furnished considerable air to the smoldering fire.

To overcome this the officials directed that an additional entry, to parallel the main, be driven and men have been at work on this for some time. Yesterday they were ready to cut through into the right angle entry, and every preparation was made for the safety of the men while engaged in this trying task. In order to permit the men to breathe while in this atmosphere, which was found to be thick with smoke, the Dräger breathing apparatus was used, this contrivance consisting of a tank which is carried on the back, feeding air to a cap placed over the head.

Equipped with this new invention the men were enabled to work in the smoke without any bad effects, and last night succeeded in building cement and brick stoppings to cut off the air from the main and parallel entries, thus permitting the men to go ahead with the work of driving the additional entry to a point beyond the fire.

While engaged in the work the carpenter was overcome by the smoke, owing to the fact that the apparatus he was using having been improperly placed. Shortly after going into the foul atmosphere he gave a few gasps and fell over. He was quickly removed to purer air and rapidly recovered his normal state and in a few minutes was ready for further service.

At the point where the new entry crosses the right angle entry, the workmen found things very warm, indicating that the fire is still burning, and with a little air would do a great deal of damage. Last winter the officials succeeded in confining the fire to a great extent, and now hope, by the aid of the new entry to build other brattices much closer to the burning portion, and thus finally overcome it.

The new entry now being driven will cut over into the main entry after getting to a point beyond the fire, and will be used temporarily as a haulage way until such time as the regular entry can be used. As for return air ways, there are several other openings that can be used for that purpose, as well as the new entry driven back of Donora, which will permit the mine to be operated as soon as the new parallel entry is completed.

General Manager Knopf was present when the opening was made, being accompanied by Manager Donald Darroch, of this district; Richard Maize, of Hazel Kik No. 1; William Bird, superintendent of Penn Manor shaft No. 5, and Benjamin McIntyre, superintendent of Acme. The officials were on duty all night.

The directors of the Citizen's Library association will hold their next meeting April 17, '08, in the hall at 7:20 a. m., all members are requested to be present. By order of board, W. C. Pangburn, Sec'y. 20111

Making More Than a Living

Nearly every man who works steadily makes more than a living. During these slow times the men who have saved something appreciate what it is to have something laid away for a rainy day. A few cents a day soon counts up, and when savings are placed in a bank at a tidy interest the sum soon grows to proportions that make it a safeguard against want when work is not plentiful. Figure up how much more than a living you are making now, and place the difference in this bank. Four per cent interest paid in savings department.

PERSONAL MENTION LEGS CUT OFF BY

TRAIN, MAN DIES AT THE HOSPITAL

Daniel Lewis, of California, Suffers Death For Carelessness on Track.

Daniel Lewis, a colored man of California had his legs cut off and other painful injuries inflicted by the local night shifter, at Sixth street at 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening. The injured man was taken to the Memorial Hospital, Monongahela, where he died at one o'clock Sunday morning. Lewis had come from his home to this place in the evening to learn the election results. He had occasion to cross the railroad tracks at Sixth street, soon after arriving here. There were cars standing on one track, one being attached to an engine. But this fact was not noticed by Lewis, who instead of going over the bridge started to crawl under one of the cars. He had just got in under the car when the engine started, and before the man could make his escape the wheels had passed over his legs, completely severing them. The shifter engine coupled to a caboose and took Lewis to the hospital. Mr. Lewis was 40 years of age, and is survived by his wife and five children. He was employed in the California Brick works, being known as a faithful worker.

Letter to T. L. Daly.

Charleroi, Pa.

Dear Sir: There are thousands of people saying: "That's what I call a good job of paint. It has worn three years. I'm going to repaint it before it needs it: three years is enough."

Those people are a long way behind the times. There are two reasons for painting: those people know only one way of thinking only of water: of keeping out water. Three years may be too long for the house of paint: it isn't half long enough for the wear. If all you want of paint is to keep-out water, Devco is good for a dozen years in average places. And that isn't all.

The paint that takes least gallons makes the least bill for both paint and painting: people forget the labor bill: it's the biggest bill in the job. A gallon saved is about $5. Five gallons saved is $25. The paint that saves gallons—that's the paint to wear.

Geo W Brown, Union, S.C, painted B F Arthur's house there twelve years ago with 30 gallons; repainted five years ago lead-and-oil with 25 gallons; last year Devco with 14 gallons. There's $50 saved on paint and labor; don't know what he paid for that 30-gallon stuff; no matter. Go by the gallon.

Yours truly

F W DEVCO & CO
Buckholdt Hardware Co. sells our paint.

In the near future all cars on the Pittsburg Railways company lines will be equipped with driving rods similar to those now in use on railroad locomotives. Already the idea has been tried (but on various lines, one car equipped being in use on the local division, and it is said they have given satisfaction. The rods connect driving force directly with the wheels, and when the power is thrown on all wheels start at once. It also renders stops more easy, as no one wheel can slide, as they do under the old system.

Marlin

THE Marlin Model 1894 is a medium light weight repeating rifle, a well proportioned, finely balanced gun with all the advantages and comforts of the Marlin solid-top, side-ejecting construction. Its quick and easy operation, accurate up to 300 yards and a very pleasant gun to carry and to shoot.

For settled districts and farming country where the shooting at woodchucks, badgers, foxes, coons, hawks, etc., is at ranges from 100 to 200 yards, the 25-20 and 32-20 rifles with the black and low-pressure smokeless loads cannot be equalled for accuracy and ease of operation. The Marlin Model 1894 rifle is cheap, and can be loaded at very small cost.

The up-to-date sportsman needs the "Marlin Book" every day in the year. It contains 124 pages of live stuff for the man who loves a good gun, and wants to know everything about it. FREE for 5 stamps.
